Bringing Shakespeare & Company’s production of Romeo and Juliet to your school’s auditorium:

On a separate sheet of paper, in one or two paragraphs, please describe how an NEA Award would make it possible to incorporate this program into your curriculum for the 2008-2009 school year. Please explain the financial limitations that you are working under and how this award would make it possible for R & J to come to your school.

Please note: Bringing the Tour to your school normally costs $2,300. With an NEA award, schools that qualify will pay only $1000. Please make your best case for this competitive award so we can reach those students with the greatest desire and need.

Bringing your students to one of our centralized locations:

In order of preference, please indicate which performance you would like to attend (see the schedule of performances at www.shakespeare.org). Please specify date, time and location.

Approx. how many students would you be bringing to the performance? ____ How many chaperones? ____

Have you ever taken your students to see live productions of Shakespeare? If so, when?

On the attached sheet (or a separate sheet of paper), in one or two paragraphs, please describe how an NEA Award would enable you to incorporate our program into your curriculum for the 2007-2008 school year. We are eager to make this NEA Initiative available to as many participants as possible; however this award is necessarily competitive.

If selected, your tickets will cost $5.00 per student (normally $10 -$12 per student). As always, chaperones may attend the performance at no charge (1 chaperone for every 20 students). Transportation costs are not covered in the award and are the responsibility of each school.

This application needs to postmarked no later than October 16, 2009
